No. It's still in the State Office review process. It won't go to the State Director until all edits and changes are made and it passes muster with our Communication/Public Affairs Office.

I should have been more clear, is it signed by the State Director and on its way to the WO. Sorry about that.

No. The PLO itself must be signed by the Assistant Secretary of Lands and Minerals Management in the Department of Interior. Our State Director must sign the transmittal memo that sends it to the BLM-Washington Office. At each step - BLM Colorado State Office, BLM WO, and DOI, the package goes through a strenuous and (unfortunately) lengthy review.

It's back on my desk. I need to patch up a few shortcomings. It's format stuff, not content, so I don't need anything from you. I'll keep you posted.

Hi Steve
Just checking in, has our withdrawal package left the state office yet?
And, have you had a chance to check on our canned verbage for the Section 24 Reservation?
Thanks!
Dee
